POLICE – (Staff contact Brett Ayres, Sgt Community Relations, 936-559-2618)

The Nacogdoches Police Department is dedicated to providing continued professional police services to the Nacogdoches Community. We value input from our community members and feel their input helps us better serve and protect. We have begun putting out survey questions on different topics that we want your input on. The questions are designed to help us better understand areas in which we are doing well in and the areas in which we can improve. The survey questions are being posted on the Nacogdoches Police Department Facebook page and soon on the city of Nacogdoches website.

LIBRARY - (Staff contact: Mercedes Franks, Library Manager, 936-559-2945)

The library received a shipment of Voters Guides from the League of Women Voters of Texas, a nonpartisan group dedicated to providing information about voting and elections. The guides are free for anyone to pick up and they are in English and Spanish. The public library is a designated site for voter registration. See Exhibit B for additional Library Events

The Texas Historical Commission (THC) is coming to Nacogdoches! The THC welcomes your attendance and participation in the Nacogdoches regional workshop for the 2022-2032 Texas Statewide Historic Preservation Plan. Join us on March 3 from 10 a.m. to noon at the C.L. Simon Recreation Center to discuss the future of historic preservation in Texas. This workshop is free and open to the public so bring a friend, family member, or another fellow Texan! For more information or to register, please visit www.texaspreservationplan.com and navigate to the “Meetings” tab.

PLANNING & ZONING - (Staff contact: Alaina Helton, City Planner, 936-559-2572)

City Council Redistricting: The City recently completed the process of re-establishing City Council ward boundaries based on the new 2020 Census data. This process is important in ensuring that each City Council Member ward has equal voter representation through equal, or equivalent, population counts. The final plan was adopted on January 18, 2022. Information regarding this process, including past meeting agendas and videos, meeting schedule, and previous and new maps can be found online at <https://www.nactx.us/1438/Redistricting>, or on the City’s homepage (www.nactx.us) by clicking on the “Redistricting” icon.
